WELCOME TO MELBOURNE GANG SHOW 1★9★9★9

“ ...and we'll sail the 'Shining Lady' with great pride ”

'Sail On' Act 1 MGS 1999

Indeed we are proud of the good ship 'Gang Show' and her 'crew' as we sail on into another exciting season. The voyage, over the past 11 months, of the outstanding team of people who are Melbourne Gang Show has, once again, managed to complete the demanding, exciting, frustrating and ultimately fulfilling process of creating a Gang Show. From the original ideas and thoughts through to the final product Gang Show provides an opportunity to its members to develop their skills and talents in the entire range of theatrical pursuits.

This performance is the result of thousands of hours of work by the dedicated and talented team of Scouts and Guides. They have been supported by their families and their own Groups to participate in and experience the joy of bringing to life a new and exciting theatrical concept.

Gang Show is a specialist activity within Scouts and Guides Victoria which provides a practical demonstration of the universal value of Scout training, where teamwork, commitment and 'learning by doing' bring us together.

As a member of our valued audience you too are part of our Gang Show and we thank you for your continued support.

We are, therefore, delighted to welcome you to the World Premiere of this outstanding piece of original Australian musical production written, composed, staged and presented by highly talented, creative and skilled theatrical writers, composers, designers, performers and technicians who are active and committed members of Guiding or Scouting.

“For the arch divine is a radiant sign
Of a message from on high
The promise in the sky”

'Promise in the sky' Act 2 MGS 1999

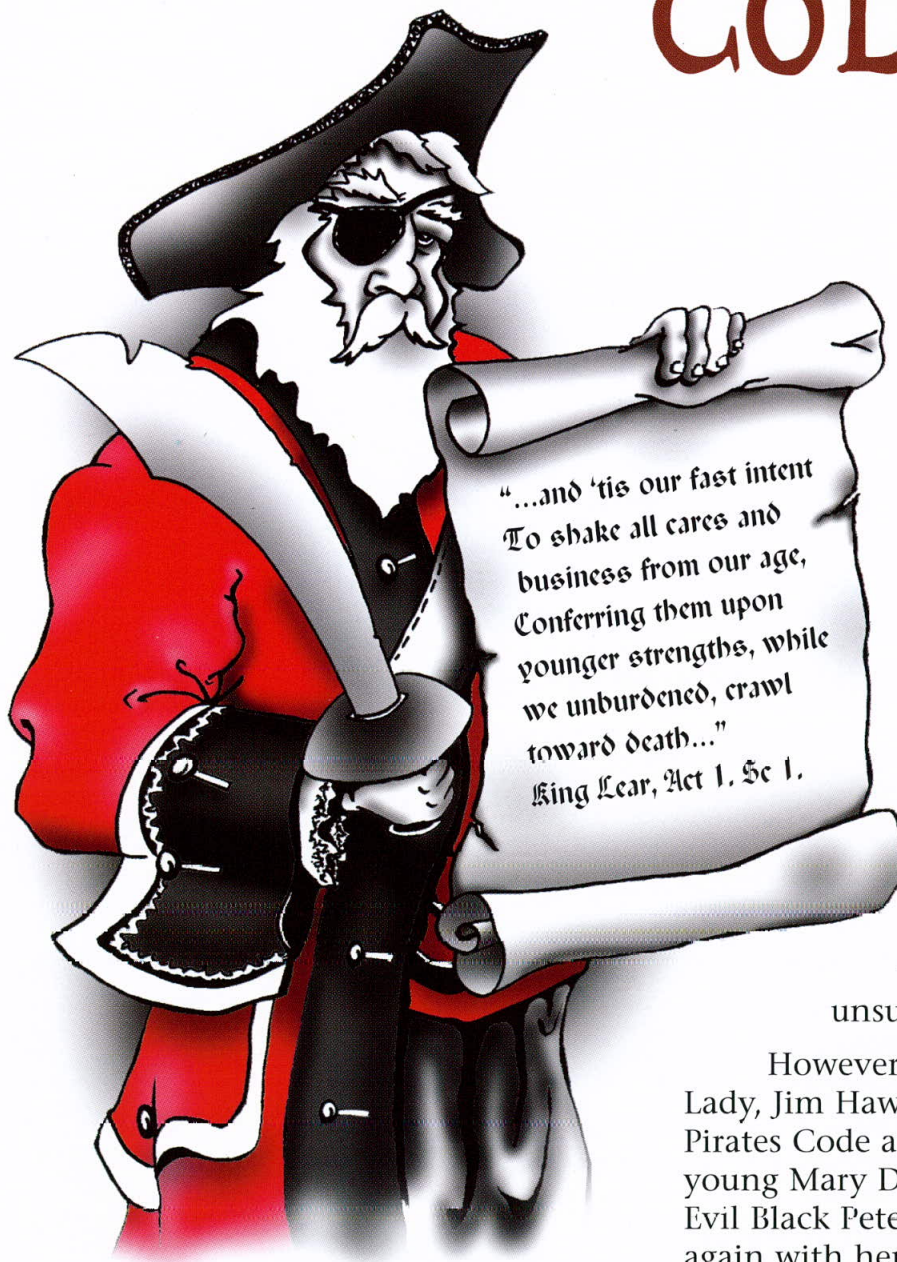

So come aboard and sail with us to the rainbow in the sky.

(Production Director)

ACT★1

THE PIRATES CODE

As our story begins, Captain Thomas Tew, still passionate about revenge but beaten by time, brings his ship the 'Shining Lady' and her crew into Sinkport to retire. Ever since he witnessed his Captain, Jack Maggs, being stabbed in the back by the wicked Black Pete many years before, Thomas has sailed the seas to avenge his death.

However while Tom has been searching, Black Pete and his dastardly crew have taken over Jack Maggs' hometown, Sinkport. They have intimidated the townsfolk, arrested the children, bribed the Mayor and his cronies and used the port as a trap to lure in unsuspecting ships.

However the Cabin Boy on the Shining Lady, Jim Hawkins, is learning to live by the Pirates Code and after he falls for the spirited, young Mary Dean they conspire to destroy the Evil Black Pete. Finally, the Shining Lady sails again with her new young crew, fighting evil, bringing truth and upholding the Pirate's Code.

ACT★2

noah&company

In every society there is an outsider; someone who rows against the current.

Way down yonder in the free and easy, wine and cheesy land of Canaan in..... well, a long time ago; that person is Noah.

He knows that the excesses and indulgences of the townsfolk have pointed them on a voyage of self destruction.

And because they do not heed God's warnings Noah takes his future into his own hands, and gathers around him his family, and two of every living creature. Following God's instructions, Noah builds an ark, and with his unlikely cargo sets off for a new tomorrow.

But when doubts assail him and his faith is tested, the arc of colours in the sky reminds him, and all of us, of God's eternal promise.

HOW DOES IT ALL HAPPEN?

You see the cast on stage - the singing, acting and dancing - but that's only part of the story!

While the cast rehearse, teams of dedicated Venturers, Rangers, Rovers, Leaders and mums and dads are beavering away creating the hundreds of costumes and many sets, designing lighting and sound setups and making a myriad of hand props that are required to compliment the cast on stage.

While all that goes on, other teams are marketing the show, processing ticket orders, providing tea and coffee and feeding everyone at weekend rehearsals, we even have a team paying bills to keep the show running smoothly.

Now we're at the theatre, the front of house team move into action, seating everyone, selling programs, souvenirs and looking after your every need.

While we have 120 cast on stage, there are another 120 behind the scenes, all teams working together to bring you the best entertainment in Melbourne tonight!

TECHNICAL M★GIC!

Technical Manager, Dave Paulin and his teams create the magic that you see the cast work with on stage. They work closely with the Production & Design Teams to really make the show come alive!

Each weekend, at our Dandenong Scenery Store you can see amazing transformations. From pieces of timber and a few paint pots into, well, a Pirate Ship, a Smuggler's Cove, a Seaside Village and 5 huge triangles, not to mention an Ark, are just a few of the challenges that faced Paul Francis and the Scenery Construction team. With the help of Sarah Cavalier, our Scenic Artist, they have built the fantastic sets, without which the stage would look bare. Now we're in the theatre, it's the Staging team, under the guidance of Gregg Johnston, who ensure that each piece of scenery ends up on stage in just the right spot at just the right time.

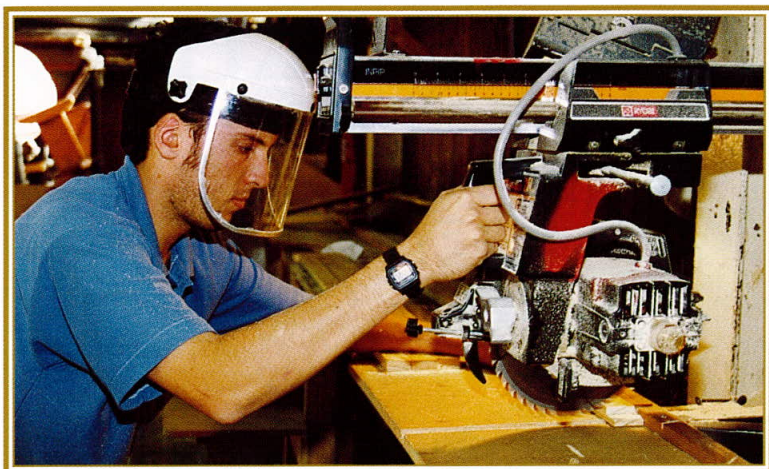

THE "TECH TEAM" HARD AT WORK

Jan Andersen and Faye Glew and their hardworking Costumes and Wardrobe teams spend a busy 3 months buying material, manufacturing, modifying, obtaining and fitting costumes for our cast of 120 (many of whom will use up to 6 costumes throughout the course of the show). Good Pirates, Bad Pirates, Mayors, townsfolk, Noah and his family - no challenge is too great for our talented team of sewers - and this year even a dad got roped in! It's a good thing that they have Monday nights and Weekend Rehearsals, along with special working bees at our Oakleigh Costume Store to turn fabric of all shapes, types and colours into the wide range of fashion required. But it's not only hard work - the maintenance, storage, cleaning and construction of our costumes takes place with fun and frivolity.

Props team are an amazing bunch, who turn what looks like average materials scrounged from offcuts and leftovers into hand held items that look better than the real thing. Or do you need a hundred pairs of animals to fill your Ark? The props team will make you Animal Masks for just such an emergency!

THE MANY FANTASTIC

parrots, workers to wenches, the range is amazing - and often cast change characters from scene to scene, leaving only a few minutes for the transformation.

Perhaps you need to know how much time you have to get into your next costume, or when to come into the stage area for your item. Only then will you appreciate the true value of the inhouse Video system, installed and managed by one of our smaller departments headed by David Nathan.

Once the show is ready to start, it's the job of Paul Francis our Stage Manager to control and co-ordinate the technical parts - the house lights go down, the orchestra plays and the show is away. Via the technical intercom system, the complex set of cues which ensure the show runs smoothly are received by each area - all working to ensure the magic of Gang Show is magic indeed.

Vital to seeing the illusion created by the Cast, Sets and Costumes, and the other technical areas, is Liz Beedle and the Lighting team! With literally hundreds of lamps to hang, focus and control via a computer programmed console, they help design and bring to life effects ranging from storms on the high seas to the dawning of a new day.

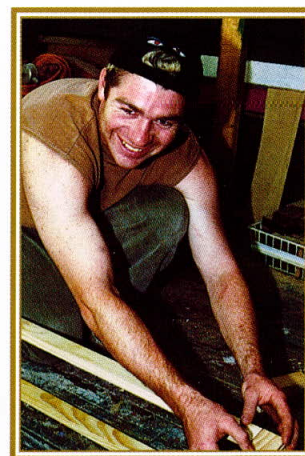

When you see the Pirates at each other throats, with swords poised to smite their opposite number, be assured the sword probably isn't real. It just looks as though it is. Colin Eaton and his

And our Audio team are responsible for setting up and operating our sound system, with microphones and speakers, amplifiers, equalisers and effects racks. And that's just the equipment. The tricky part is connecting everything to the mixing desk at the back of the theatre and fine tuning and operating the whole system throughout the show. But for our dedicated team the proof is in the listening pleasure for you, the audience.

The Makeup crew, under the watchful eye of Melissa "Smurf" McKinnon, make sure that every face on stage looks realistic to the character required. Without makeup, faces look pale under theatrical lighting - we wouldn't want you to assume that everyone on stage is ill. From pirates to

Innovation

Benjamin Franklin

"The Man With The Kite"

Benjamin Franklin - one of mankind's greatest innovators. The inspiration behind the Franklin Printing Group. A man of many talents - diplomat, patriot, moralist, philosopher, scientist, publisher and printer. In 1752 he flew a kite with its wire attached to a key during a violent thunderstorm, proving that lightning, a mysterious and terrifying natural phenomenon, was actually a form of electricity. It led to the invention of the lightning rod making Franklin world famous. Today we continue to pay tribute to the man with the kite - reaching for the sky in pursuit of excellence and innovation.

WELCOME TO THE 1998 MELBOURNE GANG SHOW

“ ... but now, we no longer write our legends down, or tell them by starry light around a glowing camp fire. Rather, we live them ”

Prologue MGS 1998

The show you are about to see is itself a modern legend of discovery. It is the journey of all those who are involved together in the fantastic Odyssey which is the creation of a Gang Show. The journey began 12 months ago. Since then the outstanding team of people who are Melbourne Gang Show have, once again, managed to complete the demanding, exciting, frustrating and ultimately fulfilling adventure of creating a Gang Show. From the original ideas and thoughts through to the final product Gang Show provides and opportunity for its members to develop their skills and talents in the entire range of theatrical pursuits.

This performance is the result of thousands of hours of work by the dedicated and talented team of Scouts and Guides. They have been supported by their families and their own Groups to participate in and experience the joy of bringing to life a new and exciting theatrical concept.

Gang Show is a specialist activity within Scouts and Guides Victoria which provides a practical demonstration of the universal value of Scout training, as teamwork, commitment and 'learning by doing' bring us together.

As a member of our valued audience you too are part of our Gang Show and we thank you for your continued support.

We are delighted, at the end of our journey, to welcome you to the World Premiere of this outstanding piece of original Australian musical production written, composed, staged and presented by highly talented, creative and skilled theatrical writers, composers, designers, performers and technicians who are active and committed members of Guiding or Scouting.

“It is the legend that is played out time and time again
By the challenge to dare forth, to discover,
To build and to grow.”

Enjoy the journey with us.

MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE

Your Mission Should You Choose to Accept It...

...is to help create the illusion of Melbourne from the 1950's through to the 1990's, including a faithful rendition of Lygon Street, Station Pier and Flemington Racecourse and to build a Dickensian Industrial Suburb to be filled with dogs...

IT TAKES MANY HANDS TO MAKE LIGHT WORK AS YOU CAN SEE BY THE NUMBER OF TECHNICAL TEAM MEMBERS

The Technical Division of Melbourne Gang Show, headed by Technical Manager, David Reeve works closely with the Production and Design Teams to meet a common goal. The best doggone Melbourne Gang Show ever!!

Both the Darebin Arts and Entertainment Centre and the National Theatre are huge spaces and as loud as our cast might be, it's a fine balance between making our soloists heard, our full cast numbers being clear to the audience and balancing with the band. Add in Sketches and you can see just how complex and vitally important the Audio Team's task is.

Martin Tyrrell and his team are responsible for setting up and operating our sound system, with microphones and speakers, amplifiers, equalisers and effects racks. And that's just the equipment. The hard part is connecting everything to the mixer at the back of the theatre and fine tuning the whole system throughout the show. But for our dedicated team the proof is in the listening pleasure for you, the audience.

"Lets get this straight, you want a dapper 1950s Melbourne Cup crowd and a 1990s Festival crowd in the first Act and Every Cast member in the second act to be a different type of dog? No Problem"

Faye Glew and her hardworking Costumes Team spend a busy life manufacturing, modifying and obtaining costumes for our cast of 100 (many of whom will use 10 -12 costumes throughout the course of the show). Its a good thing they have Monday Nights, Weekend Rehearsals Working Bees and our Oakleigh Store to turn fabric of all shapes, types and colours into a cornucopia of fashion design. But it's not just hard work, the maintenance , storage, cleaning and construction of our costumes takes place with fun and frivolity.

Imagine Gang Show in the dark?

We wouldn't see the cast, even if we could hear them. But it's not like at home where a few power boards, a couple of lounge room dimmers and a few 60 watt globes allow us to get along. Try multiplying that by a million and it gives you some idea of what the complex and highly skilled task of Theatre Lighting is all about.

Trevor Howlett and his Lighting team are responsible for not only setting up a dozen lighting bars, focussing over one hundred and fifty lamps, of many shapes and sizes and plugging them into a control desk via dimmer rack that looks like an octopus on steroids. They also help design the effects of the show from a seedy night club, to a raucous disco, to daylight and even a shady back alley, maybe all in a matter of four scenes. Inside our theatre this team help create the sense that you can be any where at any time.

YOU CAN TELL A DOG BY IT'S MARK

Melbourne Gang Show's Makeup Team has been given the task of turning every cast member in the second act into a dog. Sue Nichols and her team have spent many hours watching truck loads of terriers, and reading about bookloads of bulldogs to prepare themselves for this task. Throw in hours of practice in terms of both application and design and they are ready for the show.

Theatre Makeup creates character in a discipline that takes years to perfect. Its a balance between lines and shading and compensation for lighting techniques so that it is possible to make you believe that our youngest cast member can be the oldest woman in the world, or the furriest dog, or the wickedest wife or...the list goes on.

When you see a cast member holding a sword be assured that it probably isn't real. It just looks that way.

Colin Eaton and his Props team are our scavengers of the show. They use seemingly average materials scrounged from offcuts and leftovers to create hand held items that look better than the real thing. They also find things to dress the set (how many of you have a 1950s bookies bag under your bed?).

Every weekend, if you stop by the Dandenong Sets Store you can see amazing transformations. It might be pieces of timber into a fully accurate and structurally sound terrace houses, a perfectly painted, seedy back alleyway or a fully operational city park, complete with running water.

As you really imagine you can see that ship sailing into Station pier spare a thought for our Staging and Sets Construction team. You won't see them but they do more than work up a sweat during the show, changing life size sets from one scene to the next, in less time than it takes you to applaud the previous item, Paul Francis directs the changes with his well oiled men and women in black. If the sets transport you to another place and time then thank the Staging Team.

Want to re-live the show with our souvenir Video? Or perhaps you're in the show and need to know how much time you have to get into your next costume. Only then will you begin to appreciate the work of one of our smaller departments headed by David Nathan.

Once the house lights go down and the orchestra plays its first melodies, it's the job of Jason De Voogd and his Stage Management team to control and coordinate all of the technical parts. People around the auditorium and backstage might seem to be listening to the latest CD but they are actually following a complex set of sound, lighting and staging cues which ensure that the show runs smoothly and the magic of theatre is not lost. That light just doesn't magically appear at the right time.

SARA MCKAY ADDS THE FINISHING TOUCHES TO ONE OF THE MANY PIECES OF SCENERY

...This Technical Extravaganza will not self destruct after 5 seconds
(or 13 shows)

The "Tech Team" as they are affectionately called are vital to the success of Melbourne Gang Show and their professional level skills and talents may look easy but take a mountain of training and effort to perfect. We may concentrate on the Cast on stage but it is often the work of the whole Tech Team which binds it all together.

BRIDGES

...a Modern Legend

The scene is Melbourne 1998. In the midst of the Lygon Street Festa, exciting news breaks in Cafe Del Ponte owned by Ricardo Di Capo. Gabriella, his school teacher daughter, has become engaged to her Australian boyfriend Josh.

Leaving the restaurant, Gabriella and Josh return to the schoolroom in time for a rehearsal of the class performance of Virgil's Aeneid. The children are confused by the story and make the rehearsals a trying time for all concerned.

But Ricardo understands the story. Like Aeneas he too has made a journey. Leaving his family in Italy in the late 1950's he came to Melbourne to start a new life, to write his story in the city's history. His first encounters with Melbourne at Station Pier and the Melbourne Cup, were strange and puzzling. But Ricardo persevered and made his mark in the city, opening his own restaurant and starting a family.

Now faced with an inevitable final journey, he reviews his life and the pathways that have brought him to this time. The story of the Aeneid, of journeys taken and of bridges crossed, is his story. And it is Gabby's story too, as she and Josh set out on their new life together.

In the end, Bridges is everyone's story.

IT'S A DOGGONE LIFE

Rex the dog has a strange ambition.
He wants to be a human being.

That's OK for Rex, but there are others in this cautionary tale who don't want to see it happen. There's the evil Wanda, she of the horrible countenance and vile nature. She and her accomplice, the conniving and fiendish dogcatcher Roach, have Rex targeted as an unwilling participant in their devilish new business enterprise.

But help is at hand. Rex has allies. In addition to a canine menagerie of every dog imaginable; he has a trusty friend in young Kevin. Kev's a happy go lucky lad, in love with life, but his problem is that he's saddled with Wanda as a step mother, and wouldn't you know it, his step dad Earl's not much help or consolation. When Kev meets Penny (who as luck and clever writing would have it, is Rex's owner) they begin to see a way out of the terrible predicament.

How Penny and Kevin join forces with Rex and the dog population of town to stop the dastardly Roach and Wanda and their bumbling cronies is the basis of our story. For the goodies, things turn out just fine. And the evil ones get their just desserts.

Oh well, it's a doggone life.

THE SOURCE OF THE 1998 SHOW

Melbourne Gang Show is a game for the whole family. From members of the Gang who have been around for many years (maybe even to the point of losing count) such as Don McLeod and Neil Weatherhill right up to people who are in their first year in the show like Scout Eugene Holcombe and Guide Stephanie Howells. In fact it is such a family affair that we have almost the whole family in some cases, such as the Bennett, Perry and Keppler families. What's more we cover nearly every section in the Guide and Scout sections; Brownie Guides to Ranger Guides, Cub Scouts to District Scouting Staff.

Gang Show is all about training in theatre, in a Scouting and Guiding environment. Every member of the Gang is already an active member of their home group and we can't wait to share our collective experience, both on stage and behind the scenes.

This year the award for the most represented group goes to Delnigy Rover Crew, showing that a good thing like Melbourne Gang Show can be addictive. But don't worry we have lots of groups represented by just one member. Gang Show is a family so everybody find their place. Perhaps next year Melbourne Gang Show can welcome you in to its inviting arms.

Just look in this programme for information on how you can join our Gang.

The following Groups and sections are proud to support Melbourne Gang Show and give you, the audience yet another year of theatricals smiles and laughter.

WHY ARE WE IN GANG SHOW?

by Callan Lewis and Kate Allison

Recently we took time to talk to two of our Gang Show cast members. Callan Lewis has been in the show for three years now and is a Scout with 1st Langwarrin. It's Kate Allison's first year in MGS, after coming from South Metro Showtime. A guide with 2nd Caulfield Enonya, she looks forward to many more years.

Callan - After being in the Gang Show audience for many years and enjoying it immensely, My Grandfather suggested that I should apply to be in cast.

"Who me?" I declared vigorously

"Of course. You love being on stage and acting. Why not give it a go?"

So I did. I wrote to Scout Headquarters and received an application form, sent it away and waited....

Kate - But that was nothing like the excitement of going through the audition process and waiting for that letter to arrive in the mail that said "Yes, you have made it!"

Callan - I've made lots of new friends in Gang Show

Kate - And learned a lot about acting, the theatre and the arts too. I'd like to be an actress when I leave school so Gang Show helps me to do what I love - to perform.

Callan - But it's not just about singing acting and dancing. It's also a training and learning experience. It gave us the chance to be on stage, learn a lot about performing and about ourselves.

Kate - And have fun ! Oh yes, lots of that.

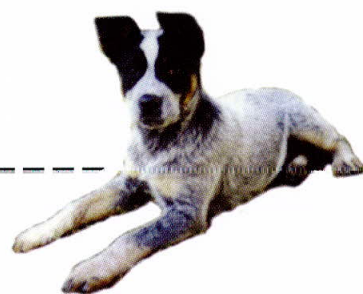

Callan - Gang Show is a great idea and this year's show promises to be original and entertaining

But we had to ask. You've been through 14 weeks of rehearsals and now you've reached the stage for performances. Will you be back next year?

Kate - I've had so much fun at Monday night rehearsals that even if the performance side of things is not what I'm expecting, I'll be back anyway

Callan - Believe me, the performance part is fantastic. Just being on stage and hearing the applause from the audience... You know then that it's all been worthwhile and you have done something great, if only for yourself.

WHY DON'T YOU BECOME A PART OF MELBOURNE GANG SHOW TOO...

I WOULD LIKE TO BE A PART OF MELBOURNE GANG SHOW 1999

THE CAST

1998

JULIET PATROL

Juliet is our name and performing is the aim,
 With Debbie leading the patrol, all ten of us in all,
 We plan to entertain you, so sit and have a read through,
 A few little tid bits, to distinguish amongst the skits.
 We have Anna who is tall, down to Jessica who's small.
 The Kate's are very loud, whilst being really proud,
 With Rebecca and Michelle, thinking teddy bears are swell.
 Look for curl on Louise, red haired Amanda you'll find with ease.
Kathy who loves to dance brings us to our final chance to hope you had a fabulous time and will come back in '99.

VIOLA PATROL

Viola are stuck on a tropical Island.
Good News: The Gang Show Team Agreement stated we are allowed to bring one item each.
Bad News: We also had to make sacrifices.
Mandy brought MGS posters for palm trees and sacrificed old MGS videos.
Jody brought her toothbrush and sacrificed her braces.
Melanie brought her red PJ's and sacrificed Zoe's snoring.
Leah brought her new MGS Scarf and sacrificed, under sufferance, her group scarf.
Zoe brought booking forms for the natives and sacrificed Rob Mottions Stubbies shorts.
Tanya brought our Viola Mascot and sacrificed the Damien that lives in Ben.
Caroline brought the Collingwood footy team and sacrificed her 'little black book'.
Lauren brought her 'Pizzazz-o-meter' and sacrificed Russells jokes.
Sarah brought her glitter and sacrificed Gregg - 'because I can'.

 Catherine Lamb
 Lisa Perry
 Rachael Woodgate
 Nadia Szwed

My friends are like painted china cups,
 One brushstroke and they are changed forever,
 Drop them and they smash into a thousand pieces,
 Never sell them at a low price,
 For you will never be forgiven,
 Friendship is a delicate and fragile thing.

CAESAR PATROL

Andrew Edgar (PL)
 Ben Dixon (APL)
 Gavin Brown
 Peter Godden
 Andrew Keppler
 David Lamb
 Brett Paulin
 Michael Rose

Why is that Gang Show is great?
 Is it the friends and pals and the mates,
 Or is it the stage
 Where we act without wage
 That is weaving and moulding our fates.
 And what of our group named Caesar
 With Michael and Gavin and Peter
 There's a Brett and a Ben
 (But for Barbie no Ken)
 Rather David, two Andrews - one Edgar.
 For we all like to sing and to dance
 And to act fulfils our desire for romance
 And we will go so far
 From the stage to be stars
 You'll hear it at the end in our chants

Gregg Johnston (PL)
 Matt Watson (APL)
 Duncan Cowburn
 Callan Lewis
 Allister Ooi
 Kyle Stephens

Othello Patrol would like to congratulate the members of its patrol for their nominations in these less well known categories for the 1998 Tony Awards.

Gregg Johnston - Best performance as Patrol Leader
Matt Watson - Best Actor in the role "Always on time"
Kyle Stevens - Best Supporting Actor in "Limbo"
Cal Lewis - Best comedy performance in
 "Elephant Man - the cuter side"
Allister Ooi - Best Vocal performance in
 "Town Crier - a story of a noise maker"
Duncan Cowburn - Best Supporting Canine as Rex in
 "It's a Doggone Life"

OTHELLO PATROL

ROMEO PATROL

Some Romeo words of wisdom...

David Glew - "Can we play Hakki-Sack on stilts?"

Ben Reynolds - "Get it...Ah Ha!"

Phillip Delaney - "I'm cool! Look at me! Making waves in the River Styx."

Alex Buckley - "I could join the Tap Dogs after this show."

Paul McKinnon - "10:1 that I can sell 50 tickets this year."

Paul Coleman - "Hey! I can dance, I can dance."

Camden Butcher - "Weekend rehearsal promote hair loss. Yeah yeah!"

OPHELIA PATROL

Anita Bates (PL)

Anita Bjork (APL)

Robyn Cuthbertson

Jennifer Draper

Penny Frearson

Siobhan Greene

Claire Landy

Jane Wright

It was recently revealed that the qualification for a Gang Show Girl in the 1960's was...

"Really good looks and figures - up to West End Chorus girl standard.

Aged between 16 and 20 years."

"The major job will be to look decorative"

"They'll dance a lot with the boys"

We would like to modify this job description in line with 1998 Ophelia Patrol.

The qualifications for an Ophelia Gang Show Girl in the 1990's are...

"Must be malanganderal, immaculant, bestitutionally superlative."

"Should be dequeseive, exeemplary and penalopidiously divine."

MACBETH PATROL

Paul Spencer (PL)

Brent Andersen (APL)

Eugene Holcombe

Stephen Jones

Scott Keppler

Ben Moody

Christopher Vat

Macbeth is a Patrol steeped in tradition.

On the Sunday of every weekend

rehearsal you will find each member of the patrol enjoying a chocolate Paddle Pop, no matter what the weather. Our two new members this year are Eugene, who embarks upon his Gangs Show career, and Brent who is now joining the best Patrol in MGS.

Maybe you too will earn a place in Macbeth some time.

SHYLOCK PATROL

Ian Jones (PL)
Nathan Reynolds (APL)
Alessandro Demaio
Ben Herrington
Matthew Jones
Rob Latham
Cameron McDonald

It may seem boastful, but while we may be a small patrol, we are big on talent.

Alessandro - Could he be the next Tom Cruise of MGS?

Ben - "I'd be taller if I wasn't put through the hot wash!"

Matthew - Loves counting his times tables and trams

Rob - All round nice guy but still the Guardian/Tormentor of Ben

Ian - Teaching the boys to mature gracefully

Cameron - The Prince of Shylock - Self proclaimed

Nathan - Spectacular return to MGS as a smooth singing Italian

KATHARINA PATROL

Kate Bennett (PL)
Lynda Bakes (APL)
Cassie Bodie
Tamara Brown
Pippa Coran
Almila Erturk
Jane Gardner
Emily Mould
Vanessa Scott

We have a secret that no one else has, of a patrol which is wondrous, full of pizzazz. It makes everyone STOP and take notice of the girls of Katharina. Our secret should be bottled, spread throughout the land. Tell them about the wonder that abounds, about a show and a group of girls they call, Katharina. Legends will be told for years to come, passed down through generations of the great things in the world - like the awe that surrounds the girls from Katharina. They will chant our name and many will copy our style - make movies - write songs - record it in the history books. Quite simply they call us Katharina.

PORTIA PATROL

Megan Glew (PL)
Kylie Miller (APL)
Bronwyn Burns
Kate Clarke
Xaveria Farrell
Brenda Grimes
Stephanie Howells
Natalie Ooi
Jemma Watkins

Meet Portia...

Megan who's strangest role was a dancing broom in '93.

Natalie who's favourite role was a dancing pig in '97.

Xaveria broadens her horizons this year from South Metro Showtime.

Brenda once played a celery stick who's top fell off.

Stephanie is still trying to live down her first year as Murgatroyd.

Jemma, after three years in the Dance Team is sick of the same partner and lycra.

Kate joins MGS to experience 'table top dancing'

Kylie makes the giant leap from makeup to the Dance Team.
