Guiding and Scouting wins at Gilwell

This is your roving reporter Peeping Tom, reporting from that hive of activity, Gilwell.

Jaffas at Gilwell include John, Ted and Robert and a host of females including Lori and Marie whose cooking has to be sampled to be believed. Canoeing is conducted by those notorious fiends, Joan and Kath, who are assisted by our Junior Leader/Life Saver, better known as Sunshine or Jamie. The Gauntlet Goonies have I think quietly gone mad after reporting a guide patrol who took 90 minutes to complete the gauntlet and a scout patrol who took 15. Who am I, your humble reporter to doubt the intrepid Junior Leaders on such a report. It must be true. They eat like rodents these

Junior Leaders, and one even reported a mosquito the size of a bat and just as noisy.. Those talent quest queens, including Lynn from Bairnsdale who just specialises in tipping scout leaders out of their canoes, are a wonderful example of the guide movement in action. Today was "Hug a Ted" day and its just as well he arrived this morning as tomorrow had been declared "Hang a Ted" day if he hadn't. Silk screen printing is popular here and is being run by those well known Hoadley matrons Lynn and Faye who it seems have been doing this since Adam was a boy.

Our Warden, by the name of Noke is in a frenzy day after day and is to be put down as soon as J5 at Gilwell is over.

YOUR EDITOR ESCAPED UP TO GILWELL THURSDAY AFTERNOON TO CHECK OUT THINGS UP THERE. THANKS TO ALAN FOR A LIFT UP AND BACK (UNHANDCUFFED I MIGHT ADD!!)

Large crowd gathers at Cannobio for Guide/Scout Own.

At 8.00pm many of the campers gathered in Cannobio Cabin for the Guide/Scout Own, presented by the Focus on Faith Committee. Two guests, Trace and Mary from the United States were our leaders for the evening.

As each person entered the room, they were given a piece of paper with a letter on it (I had a "u" that stood on its head). After the introductions, we all had to group together according to our letters and then one representative was sent out the front from each group. The word spelt was "FRIENDSHIP". This was the theme for the evening's entertainment.

The basic lesson for the evening was on being friends with not only the people that we like and get on well with, but also those we would not consider as our friends. After a brief discussion, a "support" game was run to demonstrate the teachings of the Guide/Scout's Own leaders.

ANTICS OF THE BAC part 2.

Congratulations Cassie Crock for completing Site 1 at Ship Rock. Good to see the Jaffas Jumping - who say's they only roll!!!!

Would the lousy mongrel who stole our flag please return it or we might find a novel way to deliver your 10 Mars Bars.

Those wanting to cancel any spa bookings please see the major share holders - Site 17 VBAC

Any person wanting to join our Stick Club can have a chat to our Stick Liason Officer - Loris.

Congratulations "Willy" from Indonesia Language is no barrier on Ship Rock - Great effort.

We here at the VBAC would like to know why the police car, which is on site all day, was gift wrapped, whilst we, who are never home, get our flag flagnapped whilst we were sleeping.

Dot and Doug - please accept our most humble apologies for any damage to your Bungy Rope - at least now its got a good knot tied in it.

Tune in tomorrow, same time, same newspaper, for more episodes from the BAC. "Life's pretty straight without a Twistie."

GOODBYE FROM THE ROC TENT

Beryl, Lewis, Trevor, Arthur and Shirley say thank you for the fun of Jamborella 5. We enjoyed our time with you.

Thought for the day.

When things go wrong, don't complain
Pick up the threads and start again
For over there the sun is shining
Look up and find the silver lining
Throw back the shutters of despair
And let the rays of hope shine there.

Pop into the ROC tent and say Goodbye.
Thank you for being a great bunch to work with
From all in the ROC Tent.

GUESS WHO?!

CAMP PERSONALITY

Malcom (Stamp Society) joined the Scout Movement in 1938 - proving that once a Scout, always a Scout. After many warrants he now acts as adviser and treasurer to Hawthorn District, but is also president of the Scout and Guide Stamp Society, who since 1964 have been responsible for producing philatelic items (stamps and first day covers) and putting on displays such as we have available to us at this event. Mal says memories are great but it is nice to be reminded of them by a visual display. By the way...Take a photo of your new friends.

NOTICES

Anyone born on the 4th of January, please come and meet Louise in Unit 6 on Thursday or Friday as we have our overnight hike. (I'm born on the 4th as well.) Just Wondering. Louise

Can you beat this for Family Involvement? At Jamborella Five: Shirley Deane LIC Unit 3
 Matt Deane Rover Command Post
 Dave Deane Venturer Sites and Services
 Craig Deane Scout Unit 3
 Peter Billing S.L. Catering and the Canoeing Dam - Gruyere (relative) (Sure beats the cost of a family holiday)

LOST

From Peg's Place on Indonesian Night One Tool Pouch, Yellow and Red Plastic full of screw drivers, pliers, twisters etc. Could the finder please return to Admin as they are required for work. Thank you.

TO UNIT 12

Jaffa People would like to thank the boys and leaders who took part in the Bush Surprise on Thursday Morning. It's great to have courteous and helpful people even if their rafts had some unauthorised cargo. Keep up the great atmosphere.

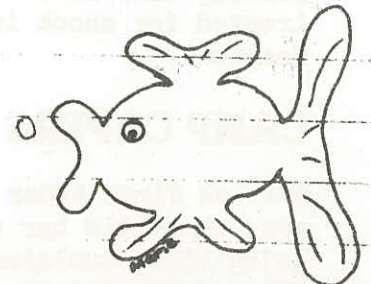

WANTED Person who ordered 8 Koala Woggles from Unit 1. (Kirsten Campbell).

PRESS RELEASE FROM THE TROUT FARM JAFFAS.

A TROUT is an animal that swims in a BROOK
 It can't ride a BIKE or read a book!
 It swims and jumps and finds a HOOK
 Then its GUT is cleaned and we prepare to COOK
 So if you EAT it and you don't watch out...
 You've LEARNed the joy of tasting TROUT!

(With apologies to "Oh would you like to swing on a star?")

GILWELL GIGGLES

Did you know that Sophie Lee's Mum is in camp up at Gilwell?

Things are going really well for John Noke's, Warden at Gilwell. Yesterday he had a flat tyre on the ute. Then the sewerage became blocked. After that problem was fixed, one of the Shire of Pakenham's graders burst the main water pipe. One of those day's where you should have stayed in bed, hey John.

Police have a warrant out for the arrest of a certain scout leader seen baring it all in the bushes at the Gilwell canoeing. The fine ladies running this activity are still being treated for shock in the Gilwell Hospital.

CAMP CAPERS

British First Aider bandaging an arm. When told her patient's hand was going blue, exclaimed absentmindedly, "Oh really, let me see the other hand." Upon seeing the other hand, exclaimed, "Oh yes."

How's the head Ian?

Over the radio last night came the following report from Warden Judy, "I've lost something. It's pink, 5 inches high and has a green stripe down its back." The mind boggles!!

On Wednesday, while our OIC (J5 Police Station) was on "Watch House Duty" (ie. watching all the items in the house to see they don't go missing), some crafty revenge seeker stole the plant from fish pond. When questioned about the incident by the paper, Ian's reply was "I was inside watching the cricket and when I came out it (the plant) was gone. I must have dozed off."

Currently the list of stolen camp items includes:
Cassie the Crocodile
Jam Cat
The Dragon
The BAC Flag
The police station fish pond's plant.

POET'S CORNER

"COME ON"

Come on sing and come on play
It's day to begin
Like a flower that shines a hay
Like a dew that lights the way
Dashy is the sun in bush bay
Jumpy is the river in Rocky May
Love from heart the dear one
Thy be shaky if not done once
Bye. Flower fading away
Hi. Buds blooming to the day

By Mossail N. Shinde
India.

Which budding Romeo was seen delivering flowers to certain Jaffas in Brownie Cottage yesterday? (The one with the most spa bookings I guess).

In a special induction ceremony on Monday night, one lady (out of Control!!!) was throned as "Princess Broomstick" by her loyal subjects.

How do Jaffa's entertain themselves at night after a hard day's work. They don't roll down the isle at the local, rather they play animal snap. They need lots of practice at it too, don't they Craig.

From the hot tub last night, "The water's splashing over the side here." said one tubber
"It isn't on this side." came the reply.

"I suppose it is impressive, but she only knows two stitches."
